LOCAL MATTERS.

To Correspondents. We are continually receiving communications on political and other matters from persons who do not attach their proper names to the articles sent; a .1 we take this occasion of repeating that nothing can be published in THE DAILY NEWS without being indersed by some responsible individual.

SALE OF A SCHOONER.—The British schooner Aid was sold at this port yesterday, by Messrs. LEITCH & BRUNS, for $4100 cash.

At CITON SALE .- The schooner Aid, about which the public have heard much, and probably under- room in his nightly visit at 9½ P.M., but saw nothstood little, has at last received a quietus, and was sold yesterday by Messrs. Lerrch & Bruns, in police who act as steeplemen passed the same obedience to an order from the United States Marshel. QUITE A SCARE.-One of the colored crew of the W. W. azier, while discharging his duties. stepped on a plank which he thought to be stationery, but was precipitated into the briny deep. Being no swimmist he went under, but, not liking the watery world, soon emerged and bellowed for help. His fellows were endeavoring to obtain the needed succor, when he sank the second time, but a long pole was thrust in the water, he grabbed it. and was hauled out a thankful darkey. His involuntary bath created some excitement for the time, and fears were expressed that the Coroner might be needed, but Africa was triumphant, and her son was soon rescued from the impending

Almost a Fire.—The inmates of Mrs. Hilbers' fashionable boarding house were astonished by meeting a super-abundance of smoke at their breakfast table yesterday morning. This naturally created some consternation, and the guests scattered in every direction hunting for the origin of the disagreeable vapor. Their fears were quieted when it was ascertained that it was "much ado about nothing," and the exhalations from a defective stove in Mr. Serine's drug store had cau ed the alarm. A little fresh air soon dissipated the smoke, and the breakfast was not allowed to become dead matter.

CORONER'S INQUESTS .- On Sunday, Coroner WHI-TING was called upon to inspect the dead body of pacity, yet those present testified their apprecia-Morris Swinton, a colored youth of about twenty years, who had been to a dance and returning home intoxicated, was found dead the next morning. Mr. WHITING, fearing some foul play, called in Dr. MICHEL, who held a post mortem over the deceased. On Monday morning a jury was empanelled who returned a verdict-in accordance with the Doctor's l elief-of appoplexy.

On Monday night he was summoned to visit a colored girl of eleven years, who had suddenly died at No. 45 Henrietta street. After examining the case, the jury returned a verdict of death from neglect and want of the proper medicinal reme-

Mr. Robson is prepared to sell at lowest market rates, and, indeed, as low as it can be ordered from the factory in small lots.

AN OLD BOOK ESTABLISHMENT FOR SALE .- Our readers will notice, by an advertisement in our paper, that Mr. Samuel Hart, Sr., offers his valuable stock of books, engravings, &c., for sale on liberal terms. This store, now numbered 332 King street, was known many years back as No. of St. Michaels can congratulate themselves on 296, and was prominently marked by having a large gilded Bible over the door. It has been used as a bookstore for near forty years; first by Mr. O. A. ROARBACH, afterwards by Mr. John P. Beile, who was remarkably popular and successful; and since by Mr. SAMUEL HART, Sr., who has done live by the addition of the following verses from business at this position for over twenty-five years. An energetic young man, who understands the book and stationary business, would find this an excellent opportunity for starting in life.

THE CHARLESTON COLLEGE.—The examination of the Freshman, Junior and Sophemore classes of the Charleston College commenced yesterday We did curselves the pleasure of spending several hours there, and were gratited to find that the young gentlemen in attendance at that institution had made good use of their time. We were present during the examination of the Sophomore class in Algebra, by Prof. Gibbes, in Juvenal, by Prof. MILES, and on the Philosophy of Language by Prof. PORCHER.

It is refreshing, in these days of political turmoil, and the stern struggle for dear life, still to find a spot here and there uninvaded by these disturbing elements, where the muses enjoy the undivided worship of their votaries. We could wish that the number of students were larger; and hope that ere long the res angustæ domi may cease to prove a barrier to the filling of these classic halls.

ECCLESIASTICAL ARCHITECTURE.—He has been styled the true benefactor of his race who is instrumental in making two blades of grass grow where only one grew before. So, in like manner, should he also be entitled to the praise of his fellow-men who helps to lessen the number of unsightly and vacant lots by erecting handsome buildings upon their site. Passing down George street yesterday, between King and St. Philip streets, we saw active preparations in progress for the construction of a large edifice, which, upon inquiry, we learned was destined to serve as a church for some of our colored fellow-citizens.

The situation is one of the best in the city for the purpose, and we know of several congregations who, at different times, have had it in contemplation to purchase for a similar purpose.

THE GOOD REPORT: Morning and Evening Lessons for Lent. By Alice B. Haven. New York: D. Appleton & Co., 1867.

The book receives its name from the text in Hebrews xi. 39, printed as motto on the title page: "A good report through faith." The purpose of the book may be readily inferred from the plan, which is thus described in the preface: "The Good Report consists of two lessons a day for forty days-the period of Search in the Promised Land." Each "lesson" is drawn directly from the Old Testament. The varied experience of the Israelites in their departure from Egypt-their wanderings in the desert, their murmurings, temptations, conflicts, and final conquest-serving as the text, from which the application, or "moral," pointed by significant passages from the New Testament, is extracted. "The book is unique of its kind, wrought out with patient labor, rich with the experience of an earnest, tender, deeply-probed spiritual life." For sale by Mr. JOHN RUSSELL, King-street.

THE MISSING BELLS.

We miss the bells with their tones sublime,

And the mellow notes of St. Michael's chims, For the Sabbaths come as they came of yore, But the Sabbath bells are heard no more.

A stillness reigns o'er the city now, And the prayerful throngs in silence bow, When the hol: light of the Sabbath morn Is ushered in with a rosy dawn.

No music floats on the passing gale, But the missing bells tell a sad, sad tale— For their strains were lost in the cannon's roar, And the Sabbath bells are bells no more.

They muttered loud with a smoky breath, On the battle-field, 'mid the scenes of death, The same soft bells that had sounded praise

The capital required may be graduated to correspond with the extent to which it ould be advisable to go, and used at intervals. If the pusiness be conducted with due regard to the conditions ssential to success, it will pay soon and well.

The disorganization of labor demands a change in agricultural pursuits, and probably in no direction does point with better prospects than to wine growing. Grape culture in the Northern States is attended with so much uncertainty, in consequence of the severe winters, that it is yet doubtful if it can be made an interest of any considerable importance beyond speculating in hardy varieties. In the light of this experience, South Carolina may seize the prize, as some compensation for the wrongs inflicted on her by fanaticism in the cause of a false humantty. In the change demanded, the upland planters or farmers will find grape culture a substitute for their chief staple, which requires but trifling labor, and vastly more profitable. This is no patent way to get rich, nor yet is it a temptation to speculate in illusions with a promise of fabulous results; but, as the "early bird catches the worm," so the first to enter this unbounded field of labor will be the first to participate with justice in the largest measure of whatever is valuable in the legitimate pursuits of life.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. MUSHROOM IMITATIONS.

Success is the "prevalent cradle" of innumerable hu bugs. No sooner had HOSTETIER'S STOMACH BIT-TERS made their mark in the world than up sprang a host of imitations, and as the same of the great restorative grew and spread, the pestiferous crop of poisonous mockeries thickened. But the true medicine has lived them down. One by one, they have disappeared. When the bellows of puffery, which kept alive the feeble fire of their borrowed reputation, ceased to blow, they ceased to live, and thus they continue to come and go. Meanwhile, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, the great protective harity with each succeeding year. Their success as a means of preventing and curing the diseases resulting rom malaria, unwholesome water, and all unnealthy climatic influences, has been boundless; and as a remody from Hayden, Mr. WOODBURY, Mrs. CHASE and for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Fever and Ague, General Weakness and Debility, and all complaints originating vocal music that entranced all hearers. The grand in Indigestion, they are now admitted to be superior to any other preparation ever advertised or prescribed .-From the home market, to which a few years ago they were confined, their sale has been extended into every State in this Union, over the whole of South and Central America, Mexico, the West Indies, the Sandwich Islands, Australia, China and Japan. DIRECTORY OF THE CITY OF CHARLES-TON.

WHAT IS NEEDED IN THIS CITY. WE HAVE MADE WHAT IS NEEDED IN THIS CITY. WE HAVE MADE a uple arrangements to supply a DIRECTORY containing the names of the inhabitants of the city, their occupations, places of business, and dwellings; Business Register, Public Institutions, Banks, &c., &c. We intend to get up a work equal in design, finish and correctness, to any that has ever been published, even during the pulmiest days of the South. This is entirely a Southern enterprise. Seeing the want of such a work, we conclived the idea, and sought, and have obtained all the capital necessary to carry out a design which, I feel confident, will be beneficial to our native city. Payments will, in no instance, be expected until the work is delivered.

We have co" menced to canvass the city. Our can-We have co" menced to canvass the city. Our canvassers are citizons of the highest respectability, and we carnestly hope the citizens will aid us by imparting all the information called for. Having been identified with the South in her late struggle, and, determined to share her destiny in the future, we appeal, with confidence, to the business men of the community, promising to furnish a disideratum which will advance their interest by amply rewarding them for the outlay.

Gin, a as Remedial Agent.

G IN, AS A REMEDIAL AGENT, HAS BEEN IN FA-In, AS A REMEDIAL AGENT, HAS BEEN IN FA-owing to the difficulty of obtaining a pure article, it has fallen into disuse in many sections of the country, much to the regret of medical men, who consider it almost a specific in very many diseases. For all cases of Gravei, pure Gin, if administered under professional guidance, will certainly work a cure; and if taken as a preventive, perform on it does not be sensitive membranes it describes will certainly work a cure; and if taken as a preventive, acting, as it does, on the sensitive membranes, it cleanses the parts so as to remove all possible sediment. "Administered in the same way, it will prevent the formation of Calculi, and do away with those terrible operations, therefore, so necessary for their permanent removal. Gin is of incalculable benefit to females in those diseases so peculiar to the sex, and from its tonic, as well as its anodyne properties, it is frequently superior to iron, bark, or even the electrical remedies. In cases of a positive tendency to Phthiss, or Consumption, Gin, in proper quantities, by supplying or filling up the constant dying out of the natural fire of the system, will often entirely ward off that awful disease, which carries off one-eighth of the population of the United States annually. Pure Gin has this peculiar advantage over other diffusible stimuli, that it exhilarates without creating any thirst of an unhealthy character, it soothes while it also excites, and is a powerful nervine as well as an active tonic.

"BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN "BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN possess all the qualities that can be desired for the high-est and noblest use of all wines or liquors. Its ingre-dicuts are the distilled juices of carefully selected grains, made delicately pungent and flavorous with the aromatic tincture of the Juniper Berry. Age has mellowed all these mingled aroms, and given an exquisite mildness— a smooth, cily body—and an almost floral odor to the itiquor, which renders it delicious to the senses, of smell and taste alike, while its sparkling liqu d purity leaves and taste alike, while its sparking liqu a purity leaves nothing for the eye to desire.

"The writer must remark that Messrs. A. M. Biningle & Co. merit the gratitude of the entire medical profession, as well as the world at large, for having introduced a stimulant f such unexceptionable purity and unequivocal power, both as a preventive and curative agent, and a harmless exhibitative boverage."—Chemical Journal and Medical Gazette.
